A few words on the test

Testing is simple and without particular delay. Skilled staff collect oropharyngeal samples using flocked swabs, which are placed in a special transport kit. It is always accompanied by the form required by National Public Health Organization (NPHO), completed by the competent doctor.

After the samples are received by the laboratory, follows the process of viral RNA extraction and the application of reverse transcription of polymerase chain reaction (PCR) in order to cover 2 different targets of SARS-CoV-2 viral genome.

The test is completed within 24 hours from the delivery of the samples by the laboratory. Every person being examined must wear mask and keep distances, during his/ her stay at the testing area.
